TURKISH WOMEN HAVE NO TIME FOR SUFFRAGE

They Already Have Enough to De Without Bothering With Modern Movement.

THEIR POSITION IS NOT BAD

Remarkable Interview Is Given to Associated Press by Three Women Students in Constantinople College-Well Versed in Our Ways.

CONSTANTINOPLE. March 27 .- Interviewing three young Turkish women in Constantinople College, the Associated Press correspondent was frankly told by them that the educated Turkish woman of to-day knew more America than Americans generally

The interview was remarkable for the fact that the three Turkish girls were allowed to appear without the traditional vells. Louise Wallace, one the institution, who had arranged the interview, had advised the young women to put on the veils, without which they never venture into the sentatives of feminine Young Turkey thought they could meet Americans without hiding their faces

Accordingly, Efzaish Hanim, Semiha Hanim and Hatije Hanim were ushered into Miss Wallace's office to meet the American newspaper man. The girls were not sisters, the name Hanim not being the family name, but the Turkish equivalent for "lady." The women declined to have their family

'Lady" Efzaish was the most alert of the three, and did most of the talking. She punctuated her remarks with pleasant smiles. She explained that while life had many serious aspects.
